CHAPTER PROFILE

Letter to Chapter Membership

North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda Members:

This has been a very exciting year for our team, and it gives me great pleasure to present to you this year's State Annual Business Report. This report will highlight the accomplishments of our chapters and state organization.

The year began with the excitement of the 2006 National Leadership Conference in Nashville. Nearly 100 members gave us the second largest state delegation.

Our Fall Leadership Development Conference was held at Mitchell Community College in Statesville. Members attended workshops, displayed membership recruitment techniques, and networked with members from other chapters. A new team was also created at FLDC. The NCPBL "Tarheel Team" consists of one member from each chapter who is willing to take on the challenge of informing other chapter members and helping the State officers achieve their goals for the year.

The State Leadership Conference was held in Charlotte with 320 members, advisers, and Professional Division members from 26 chapters attending. Members participated in competitive events, elected new officers, and attended workshops.

I would like to thank all those that have helped make my term a rewarding one. I have had the privilege of meeting people who have influenced my life, given me courage to pursue my goals, and, most importantly, helped me get my "ticket to the future."

Sincerely,

Clarence Goode, NC PBL State President

Number of Members

North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda has a current membership of 629 members representing 32 chapters from the mountains to the coast (listed in the Organization section of the Annual Report). Among these chapters, Mount Olive College celebrated its 50th Anniversary during the year. The largest local chapter was North Carolina Central University with 53 members.

Size of State Chapter

North Carolina has an estimated population of 8,856,505, which is an increase of two percent since 2000. North Carolina has historically been a rural state, but today residents live primarily in urban and suburban areas. The cities of Charlotte and Raleigh have become major urban centers with diverse and rapidly-growing populations. Most of this growth in diversity has been fueled by immigrants from Latin America, India, and Southeast Asia. The 32 Phi Beta Lambda chapters are located throughout the state, with NCPBL Professional Division members employed at many of the prestigious businesses, giving PBL members a state-wide connection and network.

When and How the Chapter was Organized

North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda was chartered in 1954 when Dr. James L. White and several educators established the North Carolina FBLA-Phi Beta Lambda chapter with 20 high schools and college chapters. North Carolina PBL has attracted dedicated leadership from its local chapter advisers to serve as State Advisers, including Mr. Ronald Eggers, Barton College, 2003-2006 and 2006-present, Mr. Daniel F. Hazlett, Stanly Community College. The NCPBL Professional Division was founded in 1976 (as the first Alumni Division in the nation), and the NCPBL Foundation, Inc., in 2001.

PRODUCTIVITY

Recruitment of Members and Chapters

Virtual Chapter

The North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda Virtual Chapter was founded December 2005. This year there were five members. The virtual chapter's intent is to give those interested in joining Phi Beta Lambda at schools without a chapter a place in Phi Beta Lambda and assistance to start an actual chapter at their school.

FBLA-PBL Chapter Interaction

The state officer team was determined to attend all state PBL events and the FBLA activities they were invited to this year. Below are a few places they visited:

Clarence Goode, President

- Presented workshops at the FBLA Southeastern Region Fall Conference.
- Presented a workshop at the NFLC in Jacksonville, Florida.
- Attended the Eastern Region "Kick-Off" and the Western Region "Tip-Off."
- Brought greetings at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Business Education Association

Melinda Robinson, Central Region Vice President

- Judged at Southwestern Region FBLA Regional Competitive Events
- Presented a workshop at the NFLC in Jacksonville.

Sarah R. Espinosa, Eastern Region Vice President

- Participated in the joint induction ceremony for Wayne Community College & Mount Olive College held at Wayne Community College.
- Presented workshops at the FBLA Southeastern Region Fall Conference.
- Attended the Mount Olive College 50th Anniversary program and dinner.

Kevin Davio, State Historian

- Assisted with the FBLA Western Region conference

Chapter Organization Packet

To develop local chapters, a "Chapter Guide" was mailed to advisers in August. The packet included the announcement of the year's theme, membership recruitment ideas and membership reporting procedures, an overview of the year's conferences, a list of council members, the dates and locations of upcoming FBLA-PBL events, the TLLA and “Gold Star” criteria, competitive event changes, and an NCPBL Handbook disk.

State Officer Assistance to Local Chapters

The State Executive Council met four times throughout the year, at the following locations, to plan state activities for local chapter participation and organize state participation in national activities.

- June 8-10 at Barton College, Wilson
- August 25-26 at Mitchell Community, Statesville
- January 26-27 at Johnson & Wales University, Charlotte
- March 28 at the Hilton Charlotte University Place, Charlotte

This year the State Executive Council initiated the “Tarheel Team.” Each local chapter was asked to designate a member of its chapter to work one-on-one with their regional Vice President in order to facilitate efficient communication between the state and local chapters. State officers also utilized the State Officer Guide provided by the 2005-2006 National Officer Team.

At Fall “Kick-Offs” and Winter “Tip-Offs” the Regional Vice Presidents led specific sections of the programs to encourage delegates to consider running for state office, reviewed state goals that needed local chapter participation, distributed the fall and spring state newsletters, and reviewed registration procedures and competitive event guidelines for the State Leadership Conference. Over 75 percent of the North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda chapters attended these regional meetings.

Preparation of State and Local Officers for Their Duties

State Council Meeting Training Sessions

Following the election of the 2005-2206 State Officers, a meeting was held for the out-going officers to review the work they had done and pass on files of PBL information. The state structure was reviewed, and the role of the new officers at the national conference was discussed. Preceding each of the three council business meetings held during the year, a day of training was conducted.

In June the Council met at Barton College. Ms. Claudia Skinner, State Chair from the NC Department of Public Instruction, spoke to the group on goals and teamwork.

State leaders did training and information sessions on the following topics:

NC PBL Handbook	Communication
Financial Development	Etiquette
Roles of Leaders	Professional Image Development
NC PBL Professional Division Work	State Leadership Conference
NC PBL Foundation Inc., Work	State Competitive Events

In August the Council met at Mitchell Community College. The day prior to the business session, training sessions were done on the following topics:

National Chapter Management Handbook
State Handbook Review
Recruiting Chapter and Members

The Council met in January at Johnson & Wales University. Training sessions preceding the business meeting day were conducted on these topics:

Officer involvement in SLC
Review of NC PBL By-Laws

Local Officer Training

Training for local officers was conducted throughout the year. In September NC PBL organized three simultaneous Thursday afternoon “Kick-Offs” for chapter officers and advisers. Presentations were made on PBL Conferences, state and national projects, membership recruitment ideas, and generating publicity. The “Kick-Off” concluded with separate sessions for advisers and officers to review their specific responsibilities. State officers reviewed the state council goals that needed direct local chapter involvement.

At the Fall Leadership Training Conference, a number of workshops were included specifically for local offices, including one just for presidents.

In February, the State Council again held three simultaneous afternoon regional meetings for officers and advisers. The primary purpose of these “Tip-Offs” was to train local leaders for participating in the State Leadership Conference. Sessions were held on the competitive events, officer election procedures, and program review. As with the Fall “Kick-Off”, separate adviser and officer sessions concluded the meeting.

Cooperation with Business, Professional, and Service Groups within the Community

Members of NCPBL are continuously encouraged to interact with business, professional and service groups throughout the year at the local and state level. This aspect of NCPBL allows members the opportunity to network with business leaders, as well as reap the benefit that event judges, corporate sponsorships, workshop presenters, and Career Expo participants provide at conference.

Competitive Event Judges

Competitive events would not have integrity without proper evaluation of those participating. In August the State Council appointed three Charlotte-area Professional Division members (Robbie McDonald, Duke Energy; John Webb, Bank of America; and Carolyn Laudati, Weight Watchers) as a committee to obtain and organize SLC judges. A list of the businesses those judges represented is on page 15.

Corporate Sponsors

Corporate sponsorships provide resources and funding to assist the NCPBL program of work. A special grant was received from Duke Energy to assist with printing of PBL conference programs, event tests, and certificates for the year. Businesses and individuals also sponsor specific events of the state Awards Program; sponsorship covers the cost of plaques and administration of the events. For the first time, the state officers wore the official PBL blazers for state functions. These were provided by the NCPBL Foundation, Inc. Belk Southpark provided two sets of ties and scarves for the officer team. A special gift was given by National City Mortgage in Raleigh for an advisers' breakfast at SLC and a special "reward" for the state officers. Through a contact within the Professional Division, on the night before SLC, the state officers had a meal at the Lowe's Motor Speedway "Speedway Club" Restaurant. Charlotte Racing Car Limos provided complimentary transportation to the formal dinner. These corporate sponsors provide special items the state budget would not allow.

Career Expo

A highlight of the 2007 State Conference was the Career Expo, which provided members with the opportunity to gain information on prospective employers as well as allow those employers the chance to get their name out to future college graduates. Among the participants were Duke Energy, Wachovia Bank, Target, Charlotte Racing Car Limos, and Northwestern Mutual Financial Network. Also, corporate displays for both "Wachovia at Work" and NASCAR DAY were at SLC. The Career Expo and displays were coordinated by officers of the NCPBL Foundation, Inc., and the NCPBL Professional Division. Participation funds went into the SLC budget.

Participation in Public Relations Activities, Preparation of a Newsletter

Business Person of the Year

The Businessperson of the Year award was presented to Mr. Mark Royster, Jr., an alumnus of North Carolina Central University, who was nominated by the North Carolina Central University Chapter for his hard work and dedication.

State Newsletter

During 2006-2007, NCPBL published two issues of the state newsletter with information on the local, state, and national levels. The newsletters were 12 tabloid-size pages each and were distributed to all the state chapter members, professional division members, and other supporters of the State Chapter. Also chapters were encouraged to submit articles to school, local, state, and national publications. By doing this they could also receive credit for the publicity section of the Terry Lowrance Leadership Award.

President and Regional Newsletters

The State President published an electronic newsbrief that was distributed to the active chapters. This included highlights of past and upcoming events, contact information, and deadlines. Lengthy quarterly e-mail memos from the President and State Adviser were sent to chapter advisers and “Tarheel Team” members. The Regional Vice Presidents published electronic regional newsbriefs that were distributed to the active chapters in each region. These newsbriefs contained region specific information, upcoming events, chapter events, deadlines and other highlights.

State Materials, Handbook

Chapters received the “Chapter Guide” in August, a Fall Leadership Development Conference packet in September, and a State Leadership Conference packet in February. Each chapter received a disk of the NCPBL Handbook, a detailed listing of state items and history. Included was the state directory, event guidelines, and event entry forms.

State Website

The NCPBL website was updated as needed to reflect conference winners, deadlines, and other information. Also the state newsletters were archived, as published, on the website. Local chapters were encouraged to create and/or update their own websites and provide the URL so a link could be placed on the state website. The website provides information such as award winners, the State Handbook, state contact information, recruitment tools, conference dates and locations, and local chapters.

Development and Promotion of FBLA-PBL State Projects

Terry Lowrance Leadership Award

The North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda State Chapter rewards outstanding local chapters that have actively participated in Phi Beta Lambda state and national conferences, projects, programs and publicity/membership activities throughout the year. This recognition began in 1989 as the “Blue Ribbon Award,” but it was renamed to honor Mr. Terry Lowrance, NCPBL State Adviser for 22 years, following his untimely death in 2002. A record 19 chapters were announced as TLLA recipients at the opening session of the State Leadership Conference, and all chapter delegates received blue ribbons for their nametags. Special “Gold Star” recognition was given along with the TLLA to those chapters that completed a list of state goals by the October 20 membership reporting date.

Gold Seal Chapter Award

The North Carolina Gold Seal Chapter Award recognizes local chapters that have actively participated in projects and programs identified with the goals of Phi Beta Lambda. A point system is used to document the chapters' work. For 2006-2007, Barton College, Lenoir-Rhyne College, Asheville-Buncombe Technical Community College, Stanly Community College, and Blue Ridge Community College were the five recipients.

North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda Foundation, Inc., and Scholarship Fund

Over 50 percent of the local chapters contributed to the North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda Foundation, Inc., and the state Scholarship Fund this year. At SLC, three $650 scholarships were awarded. Certificates were presented to chapters that contributed at least a dollar per member to the Scholarship Fund and $30 to the Foundation.

Support of FBLA-PBL National Projects

American Enterprise Day

During the fall "Kick-Offs" chapters were encouraged to celebrate American Enterprise Day. An article was in the fall newsletter and a report on chapter activities in the spring issue.

FBLA-PBL Week

Chapters throughout the state celebrated FBLA-PBL week with all kinds of activities such as recruitment booths, proclamations, and information booths.

Adviser Appreciation Day

Chapters were encouraged to participate in the national Adviser Appreciation Day on February 14. A special e-mail message was sent by the State President and State Adviser to each local adviser on that day.

Career and Membership Achievement Program

Articles promoting the Career and Membership Achievement Program were placed in the state newsletters, the Vice Presidents' newsbriefs, and on the state website.

During the North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda Fall Conference a workshop was held describing steps to getting started in the Career and Membership Achievement Program.

The following North Carolina members received recognition:

March of Dimes Promotion

Over half of the state chapters participated in Mission LIFT by donating during the year to March of Dimes, with Blue Ridge Community College making the largest.

National Awards Program Committee

In June, Mr. Kenneth Kleiner, adviser at Fayetteville Technical Community College, was named as one of the five Phi Beta Lambda representatives on the National Awards Program Committee to coordinate the PBL competitive events.

National Board of Directors Nominee

Mrs. Sonya McCoy O'Brien, adviser at Mount Olive College for the past 22 years, was nominated by the North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda Executive Council for the national FBLA-PBL, Inc. Board of Directors. Balloting will be completed May 15.

National Fall Leadership Conference Phi Beta Lambda Programs

During the National Fall Leadership Conferences held in Milwaukee and Denver, special "tracks" were held for Phi Beta Lambda members. These special programs were directed by North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda State Adviser Mr. Daniel Hazlett.

NCPBL State Officers and advisers also provided five workshops as part of the Jacksonville FLDC program.

Implementation of State Leadership Conferences

Fall Leadership Development Conference

The Fall Leadership Conference was held at Mitchell Community College on the last weekend in October; the theme was "Tricks and Treats of PBL." State officers, advisers, Professional Division members, and guest gave workshops. FLDC was attended by 70 percent of the active chapters.

State Leadership Conference

The 53rd Annual North Carolina Phi Beta Lambda State Leadership Conference was held at the Hilton Charlotte University Place in Charlotte March 29-31, 2007. This year's conference was dedicated to Dr. Robert N. Simmons of Lenoir-Rhyne College. Dr. Simmons came to North Carolina in 1976 and continued his involvement with PBL by organizing the chapter at Lenoir-Rhyne College. In 2004 he became only the fourth person to be named an NC PBL Honorary Life Member. A plaque honoring the dedication and his retirement were presented at the opening session, and Dr. Simmons closed the conference by installing the new officers.

For the first year, chapter members were able to enter any two competitive events they wished (rather than categories of events used previously). Members of the Awards Program Committee were Dr. Kathie Doole, chair, Ms. Sandra Boyd, Mr. Walter Martin, Ms. Sonya O'Brien, Ms. Leanne Ruff, and Ms. Martha Cranford.

Judges for competitive events represented the following businesses:

Bandag, Inc	Northwestern Mutual Financial Network
Bank of America	Progress Energy
Belk SouthPark	Prentice-Hall
Duke Energy Corporation	Regions Bank
Food Lion	Target
HermanMiller	Time Warner Cable
Lowes, Inc	Wachovia Bank
Mitchell Community College	Weight Watchers
National City Mortgage	Wilkes County Schools
New Jersey Department of Education	Youreka! Personal and Small Business Solutions

Keynote speakers for the conference were Dr. Ray Bailey, the retiring president of Asheville-Buncombe Technical Community College, and Ms. Betty O'Neal, the first woman president of the Carolina Auction Academy. Dr. Bailey spoke on the leadership skills for a changing economy, and Ms. O'Neal spoke on the value of education in risk-taking. NCPBL obtained two tickets to a NASCAR race for Ms. O'Neal to auction at the conclusion of her speech, with the proceeds ($150) going to the Scholarship Fund.

A special guest for the conference was Ryan Paul, National PBL President. Ryan brought greetings, led a workshop, and presented the Gold Seal Chapter awards.

For social networking, dances were held on Friday night and after the Awards Program banquet. An adviser breakfast was hosted by the State Council. Advisers received NCPBL luggage tags as "thank you" gifts.

Information on the Career Expo and business displays held during SLC was given in an earlier section of this annual report.

A series of five leadership seminars was held during the conference, and delegates who attended three of the five received special certificates of participation in the Leadership Development Program. Leaders and their topics were

- Ms. Terri Genshock, Charlotte business representative – establishing and protecting personal credit, financial fraud, and personal finances
- Ms. Christie Alexander, Director of Campus Recruitment, Northwestern Mutual Financial Network – business etiquette and interviewing techniques
- Ms. Martha Sue Hall, District 20 Family Court Administrator and Albemarle City Council Member – political involvement
- Mr. Ryan Paul, PBL National President, Johnson & Wales University, Providence, Rhode Island – leadership skills that provide the “ticket to the future”
- Mr. Gilbert Umberger, Coordinator of Student Support Services, Stanly Community College – communication skills, including non-verbal signals

State officers were elected at SLC. Congratulations to the 2007-2008 State officer team.

President	David Edwards, Campbell University
Secretary/Treasurer	Kristy Boring, Mitchell Community College
Historian	Kevin Davio, Asheville-Buncombe Technical Community College
Central Region Vice President	Tonya Long, Piedmont Community College
Western Region Vice President	Sabrina Boone, Asheville-Buncombe Technical Community College

At SLC, NCPBL recognized the NC PBL Professional Division 30th Anniversary.

The PD Ambassador Program used first- and second-year PD members as guides and people available for any questions that chapter members might have, particularly during activities when advisers were working with competitive events.

The highlight of SLC is the awards ceremony; NCPBL would like to congratulate the competitive event winners.

Attendance and Participation at Conferences Sponsored by the National Association

Institute For Leaders

The NC PBL Foundation Inc., provided registration for the state officers to attend the 2006 Institute for Leaders program in Nashville. Four state officers participated in sessions on communications, team building, problem solving, and goal setting. A total of 44 delegates from 8 NCPBL chapters participated in IFL.

National Fall Leadership Conference

The NC PBL budget provided funds for state officers to attend the National Fall Leadership Conference. Clarence Goode, Melinda Robinson, and Sarah Espinosa attended the Jacksonville NFLC, attending workshops on parliamentary procedure and state officer training. The officers led a workshop on Business Etiquette, and Mr. Hazlett led workshops on Job Interviewing and Parliamentary Procedure. Representatives from Barton College, Stanly Community College, Johnson & Wales University, Western Carolina University, Fayetteville Technical Community College, and Sampson Community College attended the Jacksonville NFLC. Representatives from Johnson & Wales attended the Milwaukee NFLC. Juan Garzon led a session on preparing for presentations as part of the Milwaukee program.

National FBLA-PBL State Leadership Summit

State Adviser Mr. Dan Hazlett, Leadership Development Director Ms. Susan Stinson, and Publications Director Mr. Kenneth Kleiner attended the National State Leadership Summit held every other year at the FBLA-PBL National Center. Featured on the program was a “brief” on NCPBL’s “Tarheel Team” program.

2006 National Leadership Conference

North Carolina PBL was represented by 125 members, advisers, and Professional Division members at the 2006 National Leadership Conference at the Opryland Hotel in Nashville. Delegates attended general sessions, elected national officers, and participated in workshops and the March of Dimes “mini-walk.” The highlight of NLC was the competitive events, and NCPBL proudly recognizes these members

Chapter Management and Organization

State Officer Election, State Executive Council, and SEC Meetings

State officer candidates are elected at the state leadership conference every year. If an office is not filled at the State Leadership Conference, applications from qualified applicants are submitted and an appointment made by the State Executive Council. The State Executive Council conducts meetings four times a year. The Council is comprised of the six state officers, the state adviser, three directors (Publicity, Awards Program, and Leadership Development), state officers' local adviser, and three NCPBL Professional Division officers. A Foundation representative is a non-voting member. Financial reports are given at each Council meeting. By-laws are also reviewed at Council meetings, and approved amendments are brought before voting delegates at SLC for a two-thirds vote.

Regional Structure

For communication and training, the state chapters are divided into three regions:

Western Region Chapters - Appalachian State University, Asheville-Buncombe Technical Community College, Blue Ridge Community College, Cleveland Community College, Isothermal Community College, Lenoir-Rhyne College, Mitchell Community College, Surry Community College, Western Carolina University

Central Region Chapters - Campbell University, Central Carolina Community College, Durham Technical Community College, High Point University, Johnson & Wales University, North Carolina Central University, Piedmont Community College, Pfeiffer University, Randolph Community College, South Piedmont Community College, Stanly Community College, Wake Technical Community College

Eastern Region Chapters - Barton College, Chowan College, Fayetteville State University, Fayetteville Technical Community College, Lenoir Community College, Mount Olive College, Sampson Community College, Southeastern Community College, North Carolina Virtual Chapter, Wayne Community College
